

PRESS RELEASE: 29 September 08

Get the Best of Southeast Asia for Less

With its tempting mix of volcanoes, rainforests, ricefields, beaches and coral reefs, The Rough Guide to Southeast Asia on a Budget is the perfect companion for anyone looking to make the most of their time in this exotic region, without breaking the bank.

The second title in the new Rough Guide budget series for backpackers, gap year travellers and those who just want more for their money, is full of information on unmissable attractions in Laos, The Philippines, Singapore, Vietnam, Cambodia, Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, Brunei and Hong Kong and Macau.

Written by seasoned Rough Guide authors along with the fresh voice and enthusiastic tone of 12 new young graduates – The Rough Guide to Southeast Asia on a Budget will help you explore the wonders of the region through the eyes of like-minded travellers. The guide includes 'Treat Yourself' boxes that highlight great places worth splashing out on, alongside the usual budget slant on nightlife, shopping, markets and outdoor sports activities.

Spend the day exploring thousand-year-old Hindu ruins and the night at a rave on the beach; attend a Buddhist alms-giving ceremony at dawn and go white-water rafting in the afternoon; chill out in a bamboo beach hut one week and hike through the jungle looking for orange-utans the next, The Rough Guide to Southeast Asia on a Budget covers all this and much more.

"Jam-packed with essential information for the budget-conscious traveller"
The Daily Express, on the Rough Guide to Europe on a Budget

Things not to miss...

Borobudur, Indonesia: Take a day-trip to see the biggest Buddhist stupa in the world, covered in delicately sculpted reliefs.

Ha Long Bay, Vietnam: A famously dramatic landscape of weird rock formation, hidden bays and gloomy caves.

Banaue Rice Terrace, The Philippines: The stairway to heaven; for the best view, trek through them to Batad.

Sea-kayaking in the Krabi Region, Thailand: Discover your own lovely bays and mysterious lagoons.

City Skyline, Hong Kong: One of the most eye-popping urban vistas on earth.

Climbing Mount Kinabalu, Malaysia: Southeast Asia's highest peak, a challenging but straightforward two-day hike.

Partying on Ko Phangan, Thailand: Home of the classic backpacker full moon parties.

NOTES FOR EDITORS:

The Rough Guide to Southeast Asia on a Budget - 1st Edition - Author: Various ISBN: 9781858289533 Price: £16.99

Coming January 2009 - The Rough Guide to South America on a Budget and The Rough Guide to Central America on a Budget

For review copies, reader giveaways, extracts or author interviews:

Anna Paynton • Rough Guides Press Office • press@roughguides.com • tel 020 7010 3701
www.roughguides.com/ukpress